The 2015 AFA Annual Educational Conference and Avian Expo was a delightful success, where everyone united with distant friends and made the acquaintance of many new ones. Like minded avian enthusiasts gathered from all over the United States and abroad. It was common to hear people share stories about how they developed some of their most genuine and closest friendships, which started from meeting one another at an AFA convention from long ago. The Chicago convention seemed to keep this dynamic tradition with the meeting of speakers and social media “friends” in person.

There was a diverse range in avicultural topics from the 33 presentations for attendees to choose. There were two off-site tours at historical zoos. One favorite session was the full-group evening session held on Wednesday night, where all attendees were able to participate in the same presentation together. The Wednesday night kick-off featured two interactive workshops presented by Jason Crean and Elise Franchi and then Robin Shewokis. In a nutshell, the action was nonstop (morning, noon and night) from Wednesday morning straight through late Sunday afternoon. While the convention technically starts on Thursday morning—it has long been practiced to get things started on Wednesday with the HOD meeting and then onto the first off-site tour, closing the evening with a social event of some sort.

The AFA has made some exciting conference updates that every aviculturist (bird owner) should be a part of. The AFA annual conference is an off-the-chart, professional three day event that caters to all facets of aviculture. The annual AFA conference hosts national and international presentations representing all avicultural topics. This is the go-to bird owners’ educational organization for the United States, where people get to meet one another in person, learn and share.

Intriguing presentations blended with educational and scientific research covering a wide range of bird related topics about: nutrition updates, medical updates, new products, behavior, training, social media, rescue, shelter, breeder, clubs/orgs and more. When you attend an AFA convention, be prepared to become star struck, you never know you will end up hobnobbing with at the snack or coffee bars: authors, large manufactures, famous vets, published doctors, behavior consultants and/or specialists, business owners, organization presidents, etc.
Bird clubs and bird specialty organizations held large, individual group meetings. The AFA convention is the ideal venue to meet other members face to face and share ideas, especially for the clubs and groups that have members spread throughout the United States and/or internationally. That being said, please note that any AFA affiliated club or organization is welcome to hold their own group meeting during a designated, evening time-slot. Just notify the convention coordinator in advance.

Here is the speaker list and presentation topics for the 2015 educational conference for those of you that missed it.

Wednesday:

Jason Crean, MA, MS & Elise Franchi, BA  The Beak Speaks: Interactive workshop on natural selection
Robin Shewokis, BS  All Birds Are Not Created Equal

Thursday:

Keynote Speaker, Scott McDonald, DVM  Aviculture and Pet Birds in the Last 30 Years from an Avian Veterinarian's Perspective
Francine Andersen  Showing Your Parrot: The Ins and Outs
Josee Bermingham, AHT  Hormones: What’s All the Fuss About?
April Blazich, MAg  Herb Salad: Turning Seasonal into Year Round
C. B. Buckley  New Evidence of Interspecies Communication
Tatiana Tatum-Parker, PhD & Jason Crean, MA, MS  Your Bird's Inner Dinosaur
Richard Revis and Jason Crean, MA, MS  Keeping and Breeding Aracaris
Peter S. Sakas, DVM  The Amazing Cloaca; The Fine Art of Poopology (The importance of droppings evaluation)
Chris Touchton  Lory Aviary Management
Susan van den Brock, BS & Rob Milko, MA, MBA  What You Don't Know Can Hurt You
Jamie Whittaker, CPBC  Reinforcement or Punishment: What's the Difference and How Can You Tell
AFA4KIDZ/AFA JAYS: Miel Niemann  The Life of a Senegal and Naomi Niemann  Budgies

Friday:

Brian Coyle, PhD  Red Siskin Project
Concetta Ferragamo, BA  Behavior and Exercise within a Cage or Enclosure
Rob Horsburgh, BS  Bee Keeping as a Conservation Tool for Endangered Parrots
Sandy Lender, BA  Why and How to Promote Companion Parrot Ownership: Days of AR Activities
Josef Lindholm, III  Red Billed Fire Finches
Adrienne Mock, BA  Smoke and Mirrors: Through the Looking Glass of AR
Hilla Niemann, MSc, CPBC  What Parrots Teach Us About Being Human
Robert D. Ness, DVM  Laser Therapy in Pet Birds
Bob Skrable  The Status of Lories and Lorikeets in the U.S.
Amanda Villacreses, BS  Bridging the Aviculture Divide; Why Agreeing to Disagree is Not Enough
Buddy Waskey  Free Flight: An Improved Lifestyle
Genny Wall, JD, Janice Boyd, PhD  Evening Legislative Workshop
AFA4KIDZ/AFA JAYS: Miel Niemann  The Life of a Senegal and Naomi Niemann  Budgies

Saturday:

Patricia Anderson, PhD, CPBC  Further Investigation into the Human Avian Bond
Susan Clubb, DVM, ABVP  Assessing your Bird for Breeding
Caroline Efstatthion, MS  Integrated Pest Management to Control Insects Around your Bird
David and Shay Loy  Falconry
Jennifer Murtoff  What the Flock? Common issues Facing Urban Chicken Keepers

AFA Watchbird 9
Rainer Niemann, PhD  25 years of the Fund for Endangered Species
Quinton Pyle  Stories from the Incubation Room: Problem Solving from Day 0
Tim Snyder  The Challenges of Managing a Bird Collection for Long Term Sustainability

The AFA speaker committee is dedicated to lining up impressive, avicultural presentations that meet the interests of our attendees. If you or anyone that you know of that might want to present a talk at an AFA convention, please contact our Speaker Chair and inquire about the Call for Papers and how to present an abstract, speakerchair@afabirds.org.

If you have not treated yourself to an AFA convention in the past or maybe haven’t been to one in a long time, then you are really missing out on an incredible experience. Start planning ahead and join us for the upcoming 2016 conference and avian expo in Cromwell, CT (right outside of Hartford). For those who like to budget, there is a convention pre-payment savings plan connected to the registration tab (found at www.afabirds.org) listed under the convention tab. Go to registration and simply follow the menus and make payments in any increment. The money deposited will go toward your 2016 trip. This is a very helpful option for people who like to budget. We look forward to seeing you next year in Connecticut.

Top to Bottom: Mary Ellen LePage presents. Mark Moore emcees the Live Auction. (Credits: Ivan Fruge) Essay Award given to Ella Villacreses. (Credit: Mark Moore)

SAVE THE DATE
AUG 4-6, 2016
“Conservation Works”

The American Federation of Aviculture, Inc.
42nd Annual Convention
Crowne Plaza Hartford—Cromwell, CT

AFA Office  |  Phone: 512-585-9800
P.O. Box 91717  |  Austin, Texas 78709-1717  |  www.afabirds.org